The page for our course project is:

This address should provide direction for you to learn how to use the site:

Learn about the Edit, History, and Talk functions of Wikiversity.

Specifically, you will be graded on two things:

- Create a Wikiversity account
  - If you can’t find your way to the signup page, here’s the address:
  - Keep your wikiversity account name professional, even if you want to go with something anonymous.
  - Write your account name next to your actual name on the work you turn in for this homework.
- Create a link / new page on our Wikiversity project.
  - I will assign each of you a lesson number and name.
  - Create a new page for the project by linking to it off of the main project page under the Lessons section.
  - You need not create any content for this new page; just the link to a (for now) empty page.
  - The lessons should be listed in order.
