

Illinois Number Theory Conference

May 27-28, 2011

Department of Mathematics
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

One of the longest running conference series in the region, the Illinois Number Theory Conference has been held nearly every year since the 1970s. Past editions of the conference have been hosted by Illinois State University, Northern Illinois University, and Southern Illinois University. Since the 1990s, the U of I has served as the primary host of this conference.

Speakers

Peter Jaehyun Cho (University of Toronto)
Anna Haensch (Wesleyan University)
Jingjing Huang (Penn State University)
Youness Lamzouri (University of Illinois)
Taiyu Li (Shandong University)
Kit Ho Mak (University of Illinois)
Mojtaba Moniri (Western Illinois University)
Paul Pollack (University of Illinois)
George Purdy (University of Cincinnati)
Johann Thiel (University of Illinois)
Robert Vaughan (Penn State University)
Sam Wagstaff (Purdue University)
Robert Marshawn Walker (University of Illinois)

Organizer

A.J. Hildebrand

Sponsors

Number Theory Foundation
Illinois Department of Mathematics

www.math.illinois.edu/intc2011/